Sheriff deputy alleges threat

Greg Homyer of Granite City, a former federal manpower worker who was assigned to the Madison County sheriff's department, charged today that a threat was made in late 1976 by a high-ranking officer of the department.

The threat voiced to Homyer was directed against Deputy Richard Anderson, also of the Quad-Cities, it was asserted. Since it was relayed through him, Homyer said, he views it also as an indirect threat to himself.

Conrad "Pete" Baetz, spokesman for Sheriff John Maeras, said May 26 he is convinced there are current investigations by the FBI and the Internal Revenue Service. He said he regards them as baseless.

Thomas P. Druken, agent in charge of the FBI office in Springfield, said Thursday there is an investigation of alleged corruption. It has been "in process for a substantial period of time," he added, refusing to give details.

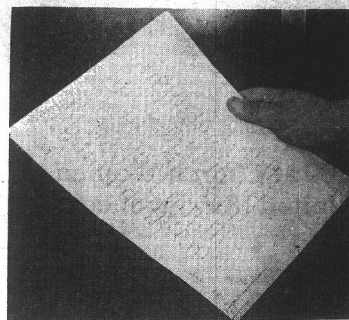

Madison County is in the Southern Illinois federal court district, with headquarters in Springfield. Acting U.S. Attorney Gerald Fines said a grand jury is being summoned this week, but he declined to speculate on the subjects it will consider.

Maeras and Baetz in a television interview Friday acknowledged that at one time a sign had been posted at the department outlining procedures to follow in answering queries and contacts from federal authorities.

They stressed a need to be aware of the disposition of various sheriff department records, due to the wide scope and number of work assignments handled by deputies.

Homyer in his comments today said he has been in touch with the FBI regarding "wrongos" that he believes he observed. He said he feels that "the wrongs must be righted."

Camper crash is fatal to GC girl, 13

Robin M. Smith, 13, of 917 Niedrigs Ave., was fatally injured when a camper truck she was riding in overturned at about 1:30 a.m. Friday on Missouri Highway 5 five miles south of Ava, Mo.

The location is in Douglas County near Springfield. Smith and her brother, William "Dee Dee" Smith, 11, were with the family of Edward D. Duffin, 2336 Dwight Drive, on the way to a Rubenmasters Div. of Bull Shoals Lake near Pottsville, Mo.

Duffin was driving his camper pickup, pulling a boat and trailer, when the left rear tire had a blowout, causing the boat to hit the camper to overturn off the road, landing upside down. Robin was asleep over the cab of the truck along with young Darren Duffin, nine years old, and both were pinned underneath.

She was pronounced dead upon arrival at the Tri-County Medical Center, Mansfield, Mo., at 2:40 a.m. Friday by Douglas County Coroner Lynn Hurtt.

Darren Duffin was treated for multiple bruises and was released. Mrs. Edward (Barbara) Duffin was in good condition Saturday but was admitted to the hospital in Mansfield, Mo., for observation. She was riding in the camper.

David Duffin, 14, also in the camper, suffered a cut to the foot that required seven stitches.

Marriage no guarantee of economic security

Illinois homemakers should not look to marriage as a guarantee of economic security, warns a study released by the National Commission on the Observance of International Women's Year (IWY).

"In Illinois, the problem of inequality is not only a matter of law, but also a matter of economic reality," said the report.

One of a series examining the legal rights of homemakers in each state and the District of Columbia, the report is entitled "The Legal Status of Homemakers in Illinois." It is based on laws in effect in February 1977.

The booklet-form study said the problem lies not only with the laws themselves but in their administration "... mostly by men, of course."

"Perhaps the most rapid route to the removal of a large part of the disability would be administrative handling by greater numbers of women sitting as probate and divorce court judges," it concluded.

It also urged women to protect themselves by acquiring "some marketable skill" which they could call on at any time in their lives.

The study was requested by the IWY Commission's Homemaker Committee chaired by former Michigan Congresswoman Martha Griffiths and prepared under contract with the Center for Women Policy Studies of Washington, D. C.

The report was written by Sheribel Rothenberg and Marian Barnes, both attorneys. Miss Rothenberg is a senior trial attorney in the Chicago office of the General Counsel of the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. Miss Barnes is chief legal counsel of the State of Illinois Department of Children and Family Services.

The booklet cites inequities in property rights, right to support, domicile, credit, disability, pensions and Social Security; the interpretation of physical and sexual abuse; and inheritance tax, estate planning, alimony and child support, enforcement of support awards, division of property, child custody and child care.

It also explores problems encountered by women seeking re-entry into the labor market, and details the impact of divorce on homemakers.

The Illinois IWY Coordinating Committee is reached at P.O. Box 404, Normal, Ill. 61761 or (800) 322-0471.

ACCIDENT SCENE Thursday as Granite City ambulance personnel and police aid three women and two girls who were in the station wagon on its side at the left when it collided with another station wagon at 23rd Street and Edison Avenue. In the foreground, one woman is placed on a stretcher, while in the background one of the young girls is placed on another stretcher.

5 recuperating after crash

Three women and two young girls were injured when the station wagon of Mrs. Helen Clark, 30, of 2836 W. 20th St., and Michael Hursey, 3027 rear Warren Ave., collided at 23rd Street and Edison Avenue Thursday.

Upon impact, Mrs. Clark's auto spun and then fell onto its side and slid into the parked cars of Manuel Fernandez, 2500 Edison Ave., and Jane Rzycki, 2301 Edison Ave.

Fernandez' auto was pushed forward 70 feet, police noted. The station wagon came to rest still on its side and the injured driver and passengers had to be removed through the tailgate.

Mrs. Clark was issued a ticket for disobeying the stop sign for northbound traffic on Edison Avenue. She said a parked pickup truck with a high camper blocked her vision of the sign.

Mrs. Clark and four passengers in her auto were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where Mrs. Elizabeth Falter, 34, of 1959 Poplar St., and the two girls were admitted.

Mrs. Falter suffered abrasions to her right forearm and to her chest and right hip, and another injury to her right forearm. A series of x-rays was taken.

Marti Littlejohn, nine, of 2031 Lee Ave., was admitted for observation after bumping her head when she was thrown from the rear seat to the front seat.

Joyce Littlejohn, seven, also of 2031 Lee Ave., was admitted for observation with head and neck pains.

Mrs. Clark bruised her left leg and suffered back pain, and was released from the hospital after treatment and x-rays.

Another passenger, Mrs. Harriet Hull, 27, of 2822 W. 29th St., bumped the rear of her head in the accident and x-rays were taken before she was released.

An awards assembly was held on the playground of Washington School last week. Attending were students, parents, teachers and friends of those receiving awards.

Safe displays Lincoln copy of document

Illinois House Speaker William A. Redmond (D-Bensenville) last week accepted as a gift to the state a specially-constructed one-ton safe, designed to display the Illinois State Historical Library's copy of the Gettysburg Address in Abraham Lincoln's own handwriting.

The copy is one of only five known to exist. The presentation followed a special preview of a "Sound and Light at the Old State Capitol" program for members of the General Assembly and other officials.

Construction of the safe for display at the Old State Capitol in Springfield presented unique problems inasmuch as none had ever been built that would provide theft and fire resistance and still permit public viewing of a document. The safe that displays the Declaration of Independence and Constitution in the National Archives was installed as part of the building.

James T. Hickey, curator of the Historical Library's Lincoln collection, collaborated with Don Marsten and Laurence McCall, donors, on the design and construction of the Illinois safe.

The safe is compatible with the size of the manuscript and allows easy viewing of the Lincoln document through 1 1/2 inch of bulletproof glass. The door to the safe is on top, rather than on the side.

NEW ACID STORAGE TANK has been installed at Granite City Steel's North Plant as another step in the company's comprehensive wastewater treatment program. Sulfuric acid is used at the North Plant to "pickle" or remove oxides from steel sheets. Previously, when the acid had been depleted, it was sent to the Granite City Steel wastewater treatment system. With the installation of the new tank, the spent acid is stored until removed by a commercial processor. Removal of the spent acid from the wastewater treatment system not only reduces the amount of contaminants which the treatment system must handle, but also provides a raw material suitable for commercial processing and recycling.

Park board committees designated

Newly elected Granite City Park Board President Robert "Bob" Patrick continued reorganization of the board by naming park commissioners to head four committees during a regular meeting of the board last week.

Selected as chairmen of committees were: George Sykes, finance; Jake Hinterser, engineering; Barry Loman, municipal relations; and John Worthen, rules.

The board agreed to meet on the second and fourth Wednesdays during June, July and August. Meetings monthly in the remainder of the year.

Harold Brown, director of parks and recreation, told the board that flowers and shrubbery in the amount of $14,000 have been planted in Wilson Park.

It was noted that an attempt will be made on a trial basis to provide weekly dances on the top floor of the swimming pool pavilion in the near future.

Information alleges theft

He allegedly took the purse of Patricia Pool, 2528 Probes Ave., in a store parking lot on Nameoki Road March 30. The victim suffered minor injuries when the purse was forced from her arm.

A witness chased a youth until he hid under a parked car. The suspect was arrested moments later, it was alleged.

Gifts aiding Mobile Meals

To supplement a deficit — the cost for older handicapped citizens of the Quad-City area who are unable to pay $1.50 for a hot noon meal — churches and community groups have been making donations to continue this worthwhile project.

With many of the Mobile Meals participants in poor health, the total number of meals delivered fluctuates considerably. In two weeks, the total has advanced from 38 to 45 hot meals daily, according to the Rev. Dr. Paul Surbey, chairman of the program.

Donations have been received from: St. John United Church of Christ, $975; St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, $500; St. John Lutheran Church, $500; St. Elizabeth Hospital Auxiliary, $50 each month; Fraternal Order of Eagles, $250.

Dewey Avenue United Methodist Church, $50; Nameoki Women's Club, $100; Ladies Coleridge, $50; New Hope Baptist Ladies, $50; Minerva Woman's Club, $50; Nameoki United Methodist Church, $50; Trinity United Methodist Church, $75; Nameoki Presbyterian Church, $90 and the First Baptist Church of Granite City, $100.

Persons or groups who wish to assist in the volunteer program of delivering meals are being invited to call Protestant Welfare at 876-8770.

Families having an elderly person unable to prepare his or her own meals may contact Catholic Charities, at 877-1184, which will complete the necessary procedures for getting a specific person on the daily delivery list, Rev. Surbey said.

Civic pride goal of restoration society

Community improvement within the neighborhood and encouraging restoration of old homes — in order to foster civic pride and develop a cooperative attitude between citizens and government — are the goals of the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society. Kiwanians were told Thursday.

Mrs. Judy Padgett, with her husband Walter, helped start the society in the spring of 1973. She was the guest speaker at a Breakfast Kiwanis Club meeting.

Mrs. Padgett said the society at present consists of 57 home owners.

The boundaries are Madison Avenue, 24th Street, Adams Street and Niedringhaus Avenue, covering a 27-block area.

Persons interested in joining the society may write to: Downtown Restoration Society,

P.O. Box 117, Granite City, she said.

The group has three different types of memberships — one home owners and residents of the area, with $1 per month dues; another for business people and friends, associate membership with dues also $1 per month; and senior citizens who live in the area, $5 per year.

To raise "money to put back into the neighborhood," the society sponsors tours of remodeled homes each spring. Kiwanian Bob LeGrand was the program chairman and introduced the speaker.

The club's annual golf "hole-in-one" tournament is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 30 and 31, at the Arlington Golf Club.

Ronald Shaver was the guest of S. Ray Grisham, Ivan Pomeroy was the guest of George Teller, and Joseph Owens was the guest of William Power.

Silver jubilee TV show

A celebration of the 25th anniversary of the reign of Britain's Queen Elizabeth II starring Rudolf Nureyev and Margot Fonteyn, along with other international ballet and opera stars, will be featured in the Silver Jubilee Gala from London's Covent Garden at 8 tonight on KETC-TV, Channel 9.

The gala, the major cultural event in Great Britain's national jubilee celebration, is a command performance by the Royal Opera and Royal Ballet.

Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II, His Royal Highness the Duke of Edinburgh and 27 members of the Royal Family are scheduled to attend.

For the first time in history, American Television viewers will have the opportunity to see the commencement of a British monarch's silver jubilee.

Among the cast of international stars of opera and ballet are Boris Christoff, Margaret Price and Plácido Domingo and ballet dancers Margot Fonteyn, Rudolf Nureyev, Merle Park and David Wall. Colin Davis will conduct the Royal Ballet Orchestra and chorus.

Rudolf Nureyev and Margot Fonteyn will dance the world premiere of a pas de deux, "The Hamlet Prelude," performed to the music of Liszt's symphonic tone poem, "Hamlet." Other onstage highlights will include excerpts from "Fidelio" and a ballet selection, the "Gloriana," choreographed by Kenneth MacMillan to music composed by the late Benjamin Britten.

The festivities will begin with the arrival of the Queen, which will be heralded by royal trumpeters, and will conclude with Her Majesty joining the artists on the stage of Covent Garden.

Training program on collective bargaining

An intensive one-day educational program to familiarize faculty and non-academic employees with advantages and disadvantages of collective bargaining will be held Thursday, June 2, and repeated Friday, June 3, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

President Kenneth A. Shaw said the sessions, which will feature eight experts in the collective bargaining field, will be offered two days to accommodate the working schedules of all university employees.

Sponsored by the President's Office and the University Senate, general sessions of the workshop will be held in the Communications Building theater, beginning at 9 a.m. and concluding at 5:30 p.m. each day.

The sessions also will be videotaped and made available for viewing in the self-instruction laboratory and other places on campus.

Experts who have been invited to discuss specific areas of concern and their fields of expertise include:

James Gemmell, staff member of the Academic Collective Bargaining Information Service (ACBIS), Washington, D.C.; area of specialty: academic governance.

Edward Kelly, associate director of ACBIS, Washington, D.C.; labor attorney and an arbitrator for the American Arbitration Association; specialty: dispute resolution.

Robert Birnbaum, chancellor of the University of Wisconsin at Oshkosh; specialty: compensation.

Martin Moran, Harrisburg, Pa., a leader in the Pennsylvania Education Association; specialty: compensation, dispute resolution and governance.

David Loebach, acting director, Office of Collective Bargaining, Illinois Department of Labor; specialty: current collective bargaining practices for public employees in Illinois, collective bargaining legislation, and dispute resolution.

Arnold Franke, lecturer in the department of management of the SIUE School of Business and former SIUE director of business services and director of labor relations; specialty: non-academic compensation and dispute matters.

Walter Powell, vice-president for administration, Temple University; specialty: all collective bargaining subject areas.

Herbert Fishgold, Alexandria, Va., former general counsel to the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service and currently an associate with Bill Usery and Associates; specialty: non-academic personnel policies and compensation.

President Shaw said the workshop will begin with an introductory session for all employees from 9 to 10:45 a.m. at which the invited authorities will discuss the basic mechanics, advantages and disadvantages of collective bargaining.

Specialized sessions for academic and non-academic employees are scheduled from 11 a.m. until 4:15 p.m. on the subjects of governance, dispute resolution and compensation. The workshop will be concluded with a plenary session with all employees in attendance from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m., featuring concluding remarks and a question-answer period by the experts.

The president urged, in an on-campus bulletin to all employees, that as many persons as possible attend the workshop. He also encouraged various interest groups and individuals to submit position papers to be distributed in written form as part of the educational effort.

Shaw had proposed during a discussion of collective bargaining at an SIU Board of Trustees meeting April 14 that an educational effort on the issue of collective bargaining be undertaken on campus before any referendum is conducted concerning the faculty's feelings about the matter.

A committee to develop a proposal for an educational effort on the subject was appointed by Steven G. Sanders, former president of the University Senate.

Recommendations developed by the committee, chaired by David Valley, current president of the University Senate, were reviewed and concurrence was given by the Senate Executive Committee.

The SIU Board's position on collective bargaining, which was upheld by a 4-3 vote after hearing a discussion April 14, is to wait for enabling legislation and state guidelines on collective bargaining - before proceeding with consideration of the collective bargaining question and allowing the faculty an opportunity to decide if it wants collective bargaining.

Bargaining enabling legislation currently is under consideration by the Illinois General Assembly.

Minority party growing restless

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

The Congressional Record does not reflect the boos, cat-calls, cries of "Vote! Vote!" and other unseemly behavior on the floor of the House of Representatives.

About the only stage direction that ever appears is a parenthetical "applause, with members rising" for the arrival and departure of the President and other heads of state at joint sessions of Congress.

But this month's Republican contretemps have provoked a rebuke from House Minority Leader John J. Rhodes Jr. of Arizona.

Two senior Illinoisans, House minority whip Bob Michel of Peoria and Republican Conference Chairman John B. Anderson of Rockford, agreed with Rhodes that civility should prevail.

Outnumbered by Democrats 289 to 144, Republicans are becoming increasingly frustrated and raucous during debate.

They vented their feelings in May in "Bronx cheers" and cries for a vote on the Congressional budget resolution when they got less defense and more domestic money than they wanted.

Republicans and conservative Democrats feared that the little extra defense money they did manage to get into the bill would stampede liberals into sending it back to committee.

Rep. Farren Mitchell, D-Md., did nothing to disabuse them. On the contrary, the spokesman said liberals and moderates could muster enough opposition to kill the resolution.

Then the "rasberries" really flew.

Mitchell was so put out that he declared the opposition was making "a deliberate attempt to destroy the whole budget process."

Rep. David Treen of Louisiana, later referring to the catcalls from his side of the aisle, said they "are diminishing my enthusiasm for being a Republican."

Rhodes, also incensed, wrote his 143 Republican colleagues that "sheer volume never carries any argument, but facts and votes will."

Mitchell, despite the turbulent debate, carried the day and the resolution was passed amid cheering from his side.

He probably had the last word. Digressing during catcalls, he told how actor John Barrymore was so dedicated he even talked in his sleep in Shakespearean cadence. Once while reciting the line, "My kingdom for a horse," Barrymore heard a snicker from a theater audience.

The actor did not break cadence, Mitchell said, nodding toward the Republican side. Instead, Barrymore quickly retorted: "Saddle yon braying donkey."

"I thoroughly agree. We cannot afford to relax the custom of civility that enables

Flyers and Bloom share state crown

Granite City athletes fell to the wayside in early going during the weekend of the 83rd annual Illinois High School Association Class AA boys' track and field state meet on the campus of Eastern Illinois University. The East St. Louis Senior High School Flyers, attempting to successfully defend their state crown, ended in a 46-46 deadlock for state honors with Chicago Heights Bloom. Tied at 36-36 with two events remaining, East St. Louis then won the mile relay event in 3:18 and Bloom athletes captured both the high jump and pole vault competition to continue the deadlock. Warrior Jay Huebner of GCHS North failed to qualify for the finals in the shot put after attaining a distance of 51-7 1/2 with the 16-pound ball. Steeler Jim Shemwell of GCHS North also was eliminated, posting a distance of 48-10.

GCHS North's distance runner Mike Baker placed sixth in a two-mile run heat with a time of 9:35. The two-mile was won by Graves of Carl Sandburg High in 8:51.

Victories by Mitchell, Mercer, Thomas, JJ

An attempt to snap a two-way deadlock for first place in the Illinois Inter-City Baseball League standings between Mercer Mortuary and the Music Room Vans resulted Sunday in the Vans taking over sole possession of the top spot.

Mercer slipped into a tie for second with the Mitchell Athletic Club.

Entering Sunday's game with 21 records, the Vans beat Highland-Pierion twice, 9-4 and 11-5, while Mercer split its twinbill with the East Alton Brewers, Mercer losing 6-4 and winning 4-3.

Mitchell AC won twice at Panama, 5-3 and 4-3, to match Mercer's 2-2 record.

JJ Liquors broke into the win column for the first time this season after eight losses, losing to Bob Thomas Memorial Mortuary 14-0 and then beating Thomas 1-0.

Pitcher Vye Reznack took the loss on the mound for Mercer as the Brewers collected four runs in the third inning and two in the fourth.

Mercer got two runs in the fifth when Dennis Harrington singled, Ken Schaeke walked and Pat Peterson tripled then home.

Two Mercer runners made it home in the sixth frame when Bob Scott reached on an error and Larry Corey, Harrington and Schaeke singled.

Newly signed hurler Kirk Champion, a GCHS South graduate attending Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, went the distance for Mercer in the second contest for a come-from-behind victory.

Mercer scored in the opening frame when Jim Greenwald doubled and Scott singled then in the Brewers scored twice in the second inning.

A triple by Jack Scarborough and a single by Peterson tied the score in the third inning, and the Brewers went ahead 3-2 in the fourth.

Jeff Scarborough singled and Schaeke doubled him during the sixth to again deadlock the game.

A line drive to right centered by Corey drove in the winning run in the seventh after Greenwald had reached base on an error and Scott singled.

Mercer's back-to-back wins over Panama came on the strength of hurler Champion, who pitched six innings, struck out three hits in each game, backed by solid hitting and flawless fielding in both contests.

Tom Henke, a Madison High School graduate attending Texas Wesleyan University, retired in straight opposing batters in the first game before giving up a hit in the final frame, which saw Panama's Mike McCullen blast a two-run homer.

Mitchell had taken a 3-0 lead in the third when Ed Prazna reacted on an error, Larry Petr, Ricky Hawkes, Tom Carrill all singled and the error Sanah provided a sacrifice fly.

The Mitchell nine got a run in the fourth as Dennis Varian and Bruce Pfeiffer singled and Prazna provided a sacrifice fly.

MAC added a run in the sixth when Pfeiffer walked, stole second and dashed home on a single by Petr.

Raidy-Lyerla fanned seven batters to enroute to his three-hitter for MAC in the second contest.

Panama scored in the first frame and added two more runs in the fourth.

Singles by Carroll, Sanabria, Brian Sikes, Varian and the Brewers collected four runs in the third frame, tied the score, 1-1, in the fourth.

Davenport of Trojans third in state track

Pre-meet perennial small speedster, Davenport Park (Kaneland), rated as a solid contender to capture this year's Class A state honors, lived up to expectations during the weekend, beating runnerup Lebanon 56-30 at Eastern Illinois University, Charleston, Illinois.

High School Association boys' state track and field competition.

Senior Mark Claypool earned 36 of his team's total points, winning the 440-yard dash, long jump and 220 dash and then placing third in the 100-yard dash.

Trojan Earnest Davenport, a sophomore representing Madison High School, placed third in the 440 final with a time of 49.5 seconds.

Davenport's finishing time gave the Trojan sprinter his second school record in the meet. He snipped a former mark of 50.6 seconds set in 1971 by Madison's Ted Holmes in a preliminary heat race.

Myers leads 21-car field across finish

East Alton's Bill Myers plied his late model stock car race, gradually closing the gap on the leader until he was 10 laps remaining — he threatened to pass Myers at any second.

Spalding, main event winner of this season, found all opportunities to gain the lead slipping away as first the white flag was displayed and then a checkered flag, signifying the end.

Crossing the finish line behind the two were Russ Wallon, Larry Stromer, C. C. Corbin, Jeff Sifford and Norm Cox.

St. Charles Speedway's resident leader Ron Fisher of Centralia for seven laps before powering his way around Fisher in turn two.

The East Alton driver outdistanced the 21-car field, stretching his lead over the rest of the drivers by nearly a quarter-lap on the half-mile dirt oval.

But a charging W. Spalding of Ponton Beach worked his way through the pack from seventh position to give Myers his only real challenge in the race.

SIUE gym design fund is advancing

Funding for a study to construct a physical education facility at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville was approved by the Senate last week, Senator Sam M. Vadalabene, D-E. announced.

"Senate Bill 314, which appropriates $100,000 to the Capital Development Board for this purpose, has passed its first major hurdle," he commented.

"Everyone should recognize the serious and immediate need for this building. SIUE is the only major university in the state without a permanent facility for its physical education programs."

"The time has come for all of those who truly care for the decent growth of this great institution to join together so that this plan can go all the way and that building can begin."

"Various studies have shown that if we approach this problem in a positive cooperative spirit, we can be successful."

"I am sure that a united effort can start the ball rolling for a building that will make us all proud of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's educational programs and its role in the state in intercollegiate athletics."

Attic insulation funding proposal

Illinois Power Company petitioned the Illinois Commerce Commission on Friday for permission to finance purchase of attic insulation and ventilating equipment by its residential customers who own their residences and meet minimum credit requirements.

The company proposes to invest up to $1,000,000 in the program.

Financing will be limited to $600 per customer premise, if IPD does the financing. Customers would have the option of making full payment within 30 days, or making installment payments over a period of 36 months.

The cost of the contract or purchase would be paid to the contractors or the customers by Illinois Power Company.

The financing proposal follows an intensive advertising program on insulation by the company in recent years. Insulation has been featured at IP conservation home shows and exhibits.

The cost of the contract or purchase would be paid to the contractors or the customers by Illinois Power Company.

The installation of attic insulation and attic ventilation in existing residences which do not now meet FHA (Federal Housing Administration) standards will result in the conservation of energy used for space heating and cooling.

"Installation of insulating material and ventilation facilities to meet or exceed current standards should reduce summer air conditioning and winter heating loads in such residences. Customers who add such improvements to their homes should lower their energy consumption."

Under the plan, customers would contract with the insulation contractor of their choice or could choose to purchase and install the insulation or equipment themselves.

Prison for spa robbery

Donald Ott, 25, Wood River, has been sentenced to serve one to three years in prison after pleading guilty to robbery. Ott, 50, regular and auxiliary officers from 10 Southern Illinois police agencies took part in the all-out match at the new SIUC pistol range south of Carbondale.

Police combat matches feature rapid-fire shooting at silhouette targets instead of standard bullseyes. They are designed to test officers' skills in the sort of pistol shooting policemen might face if called on to fire a weapon while on duty.

The winning SIUC team comprised Fleming, Steve Risher and John Hudson. Members of the second-place Granite City Police Department team were Don Knight, James Lewis, Dennis Joyce and David Polivick. They fired a total of 2,244.

Members of the Murphysboro team totaled 2,199.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW
Brought To You By Milton Mathews

Here's an odd one for you: No one besides-has been able to lead either major league in home runs at the end of any season in more than 50 years! The last big league second baseman to win a home title was Rogers Hornsby, and that was in the National League in 1925.

It's a surprising tennis fact... even to those who regularly play or follow tennis. That there is NO rule in the sport regulating the size of the racket... You can play tennis legally with any size or weight racket. You can, if you want, use a big racket you can hold.

Did you know that Jack Norwood, the man who wrote the most famous baseball song of all time, "Take Me Out To The Ball Game," had never played baseball game when he wrote that song — and what is even more surprising... After he wrote the song in 1908, and became famous for it, Norwood walked $100,000 in cash, and was named first baseman in 1910 — to go see his first big league game!

Prison terms for delivering cocaine

Gerald and Rita Heinemeier, Edwardsville, have been sentenced to serve four to eight years in prison each after pleading guilty to unlawful delivery of a controlled substance.

Gerald Heinemeier also was sentenced to a concurrent one to three year prison sentence after pleading guilty to armed violence.

The Heinemeiers were among four persons arrested after an undercover operation by the Illinois Bureau of Investigation (IBI) and the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois (MEGSI) in late 1975 following two alleged purchases of cocaine by undercover agents.

The first purchase was made at a Collinsville home for $500 and a subsequent purchase of two ounces of cocaine for $4,400 allegedly was made at the Heinemeier home.

Arrangements were made for an $11,000 "buy" at the Heinemeier home, agents alleged. During the last alleged sale, shots were fired by two men in an auto at the cars of agents conducting surveillance, agents claimed.

The sentences were pronounced by Circuit Judge Moses W. Harrison II, who also fined Gerald Heinemeier $1,000.

Communication with elderly emphasized

People working with the elderly received some tips on how to better communicate with their patients in a workshop sponsored by the SUIE Gerontology Program.

"Language and Communication Problems of the Aging" attracted a large group of professionals and paraprofessionals working with the elderly in hospitals and long-term care facilities, including a large group of senior citizens who serve as ombudsmen for nursing homes in a seven-county area for the Southwestern Illinois Area Agency on Aging.

The workshop was conducted by four master degree students, who presented the program as part of their practicum requirements for graduation from the university. It was presented with Professor O. Eugene Maag of the speech and language pathology and audiology department.

Anthony J. Traxler, director of the SUIE gerontology program, said that the communication process is the single most important factor in improving the quality of life.

"Too much concern is placed on keeping people alive and not enough concern on giving them a reason to be alive," he said.

Mary Humeke, a recipient of an SUIE Graduate School Fellowship, told about changes in communicative ability as a consequence of aging. She said the biggest aid to the elderly is to provide input more than one of their senses. For instance, tap the shoulder to get the attention of a person who is hard of hearing before starting a conversation, she suggested.

She said that up until the age of 40 or 50 there is little difference in a person's eyesight. But, by the age of 70, the change is marked.

The elderly need greater levels of illumination, since their pupils become smaller, and they also have difficulty in discriminating among blues, blue-greens and violets, it was noted.

Losses in hearing, speech and language difficulties, poor eyesight and increased rates of dental disease due to aging can be slowed down, according to Miss Humeke, who said that the elderly must stay active.

"There is a gradual decline of function in the elderly but it varies widely from person to person," she said. "Experts agree that you should adhere to the philosophy of 'use it or lose it.'"

Patricia Whitsell, also an SUIE Graduate School Fellow and recipient of the Ella Ott Seisman Honors Award in Speech Pathology and Audiology, spoke on "Dealing with the Resident with a Hearing Problem."

She said there are two classes of hearing disorders: presbycusis or loss of hearing due to deterioration of the ear as a result of aging; and noise-induced hearing losses and infections.

Miss Whitsell said hearing loss can have many effects on the patient. "It can make the individual feel that he is disengaged from the group. It can cause fatigue because he is trying so hard to hear, and this causes frustration," she said.

"This can result in a complete change in personality."

She added that it is a widespread problem, since there are approximately 14 million Americans with hearing losses; 39 out of every 100 persons 65 or older have hearing losses.

After giving some tips on helping the patient take care of a hearing aid, she gave suggestions on how to communicate with people who have hearing losses.

"It is hard to enunciate and to talk slowly. It is difficult to remember to talk a bit more loudly. But, remember, you are talking to another person," she said.

"Get his attention first, face him directly, do not move around when you talk, and let the light shine on your face so he can watch your lips."

"Speak slowly and use simple sentences. Don't chew gum or smoke, and keep your hands away from your face. Don't shout, but try to speak naturally," she said.

Other presentations during the day included: "Dealing with the Resident with Vocal Pathology" by John Pierson, an SUIE Graduate School fellow; "Aphasia—the Loss of Speech and Language After Stroke," by Karen Merkle; and "Do's and Don'ts in Dealing with the Aphasia Patient," by Professor Maag.

Machaut music to be performed

The Collegium Museum at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will present a program commemorating the 600th anniversary of the death of the French composer, Guillaume de Machaut, Sunday, June 5, at 3:30 p.m. in the Lovejoy auditorium.

The Collegium is dedicated to the study and performance of early and rarely-performed music. Membership in the Museum includes both SUIE music majors and faculty members. Students and members of the faculty at Lewis and Clark Community College will also participate in the performance.

Edwin B. Warren, professor of music at the University, will direct the concert, with Roger Hill, associate professor of physics, co-director.

Machaut was acclaimed in his own time as both a poet and a composer. Today, he is recognized by many authorities as "the first great composer in Western history."

The program will include some of his secular songs, performed vocally and instrumentally, and will conclude with his celebrated, "Notre Dame Mass."

Recognition will be given to Miss Lana Turner. She is the third recipient of the Edwin B. Warren Collegium-Museum Graduate Performance Award, established by Linda B. Warren.

Instruments to be utilized during the concert will include recorders, a krumphorn, portable organ, rauschpfeife, korbolt, cornetto, guitar and Renaissance flute.

Community learn-to-swim campaign

Theme of a community learn-to-swim campaign June 6 through 10 is "Let's be water safe this summer."

Sponsors are the Tri-City Area YMCA, scene of the program, and the Press-Record.

Participants must have begun swimming ability and must be six years of age or older.

Elven classes will be held for 45 minutes each, starting at 8:45, 10:30 and 11:15 a.m., and 1:45, 2:30, 3:15, 4:30 and 7:15 p.m.

Locat on will be the Tri-City Area YMCA, 200 Edison Ave., and the application deadline is Friday, June 3, at 5 p.m.

The five-day lesson series will include major steps in learning to swim:

Water adjustment.
Gilding.
Kicking.
Pulling with arms.
Putting it all together.
"Water mishap prevention is a big element in water safety."

A YMCA spokesman said, "Learning to swim at an early age is the best defense against drowning accidents."

"Additional training in self-rescue and lifesaving skills is valuable."

"We encourage public awareness of the many aquatic programs conducted throughout the year by community agencies, like the YMCA."

Examples are the progressive swim programs, learn-to-swim week, drown-proof clinics, water sports, lifesaving, pre-school and parent-child instruction and adult swim classes.

We urge specific family concern to "drown-proof" each family member.

"Additional programs to drown-proof families include the following:

"Pre-school age: diaper dip (age 6 months and up); night club in Granite City to stay open after closing hours. He has personally investigated allegations of Charlie's Restaurant and lounge staying open late from time to time and has found nothing but violations of the closing hours were observed."

A squad car was observed checking another lounge and no violations of the closing hours were observed.

Authorities have acknowledged allowing establishments to stay open virtually all night on certain special occasions, such as New Year's Eve.

The extent to which such "special occasions" have been a matter of disagreement between various citizens over a period of years.

In every case, I have found the front doors locked or have found only a few persons inside on the restaurant and not being served drinks," Veizer asserted.

Chief of Police Ronald Veizer has told the Press-Record his officers have not been given orders to allow any tavern or nightclub in Granite City to stay open after closing hours. He has personally investigated allegations of Charlie's Restaurant and lounge staying open late from time to time and has found nothing but violations of the closing hours were observed.

In response to mid-May inquiries by the Press-Record on closing hour rumors, Veizer said, "I have gotten calls alleging Charlie's is open after hours and have personally gotten out of bed, gotten dressed and gone there."

"I don't think the sheriff's department is bad. There are a lot of good deputies there who do their job to the best of their ability."

"But at times they have been hampered by double standards. And there are some bad apples."

Serving as a Manpower member of the department from Feb. 3, 1975, until resigning on Dec. 15, 1976, Honyer says he left due to frustration over not being appointed as a regular deputy.

He sought to obtain employment this spring because of his desire for a law enforcement career and because of widespread recognition of his ability, he told the Press-Record.

"I was verbally recommended for employment as a deputy by the lieutenants at one of their meetings. The patrol division commander wrote a letter and signed it, praising my work."

"Another favorable letter was signed by lieutenants and sergeants. And I was commended by the sheriff for my work with Anderson in the quick solving of a homicide."

"I worked in radio communications and received praise for efficiency," Honyer recalled.

He disagreed with reports that Anderson and Deputy Randy Lamb had been regarded as "most expendable" among the various deputies considered for reassignments.

Honyer said he was cautioned against friendship with Anderson, even though he regarded the latter as a highly capable deputy.

Such cautionary messages were conveyed in various ways during periods when there was tension in the department over the firing of Anderson.

"I had an excellent record, with a near-perfect attendance record, and devoted a lot of extra time on my own."

Honyer summarized in saying he believes it is unfair that he has been bypassed in the hiring of deputies.

Other Manpower workers also have had trouble advancing to regular deputy status, even though initially they were authorized to wear most of the equipment utilized by deputies, he contended.

The alleged threat was in the form of a comment about Anderson that "some people at the department are in a position to hurt him" — and not just professionally.

Since the high-ranking officer making the comment was in a position to take action against those who might hurt Anderson, and apparently chose not to stand in their way, he in effect was a party to the pressure tactic, in Honyer's view.

He disagreed with reports that Anderson and Deputy Randy Lamb had been regarded as "most expendable" among the various deputies considered for reassignments.

Honyer said he was cautioned against friendship with Anderson, even though he regarded the latter as a highly capable deputy.

Such cautionary messages were conveyed in various ways during periods when there was tension in the department over the firing of Anderson.

Torture victim urging support on human rights

The importance of the United States government's stand on human rights was emphasized Thursday night as Amy Conger, assistant professor of art and design at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, spoke on her personal experiences as a prisoner in Chile.

An art professor at the University of Chile from 1972 to 1974, she was imprisoned after the overthrow of the Allende government and was finally charged with having "undesirable friends."

Her lecture, entitled, "Women, Human Rights, Torture and Personal Experiences in Chile," was sponsored by Women for Women, an SIUE organization. She was the final lecturer in the organization's spring lecture series, "Perspectives on Women."

Miss Conger warned her audience as she told of her experience, to not look for any logic to torture.

"It is not always done to gain information," she explained. "Sometimes it is a way of controlling or getting power over someone. Don't try to think in terms of U.S. justice, democracy or logic. These just don't apply to what happens."

She said the place where she was imprisoned in Chile was called a "torture house," although "there isn't a country in the world that will admit that it tortures people."

She was imprisoned in the Air Force War Academy, a former convent. She was kept in solitary confinement in a closet and was always blindfolded.

"You got to know everyone by their feet," she said, explaining that she could see only through the bottom of her blindfold.

She said there are common techniques for torture, including electric shock on sensitive parts of the body, rape and torturing other members of the family to get a prisoner to give information, even though the prisoner may not have information to give.

Information gotten through torture is usually unreliable, according to Miss Conger, since the prisoner will say, or do anything to get the electric shock or other torture stopped.

She said she was given the "red carpet treatment," according to her captors, during the two-week incarceration. "In a way, they were telling the truth. I was never given electric shock or had my head held in extremities."

The night of her arrest, she was driving back from a school meeting with her ward, an 18-year-old boy whose mother was in prison. She was the boy's legal guardian, since children in Chile cannot attend school unless a parent or guardian attends all school meetings.

Sun and skin can be a painful combination

(American Medical Association)

Want to get a good, painful, blistering sunburn? It's easy. Just stay out in the sun in your shorts or swim suit all day on the first truly hot, sunny day of the summer season. You'll get your burn.

Or, do you want to begin picking up a summer tan without burning? That's easy, too. Just follow simple rules: 15 to 20 minutes exposure the first day; 20 to 25 minutes the second day; 25 to 30 minutes the third day; 30 to 35 minutes the fourth day.

Thereafter, base exposure time on the degree of redness and tenderness of your skin. The shorter exposures are for those with light skin; the longer times are for darker skin.

Remember this about tanning — it can't be rushed. Trying to rush it will only result in a burn. The burned skin will peel, leaving you pale and pink again.

There is no health value in tanning. In fact, it contributes to early aging, and wrinkling of the skin, and to proliferation of skin cancer. But, if you insist on a tan, start slow and build up gradually.

Consider the time of day for your sunbathing. The sun's rays are most potent between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., standard time. You won't get much tan before 8 a.m. or after 4 p.m., standard time. Don't forget that you can burn on cloudy days, on the water, and at high altitudes. Sulfur lotion can be helpful in preventing a burn and promoting a tan. The lotions contain a chemical sun screen that absorbs some of the rays, while letting others through. They also contain a lubricant to keep the skin from drying out too quickly. Sunbathing lotions must be reapplied at least once every two hours, and whenever the film may have worn off or washed off.

If you burn, ointments, wet compresses and soothing lotions will help the discomfort. A bland cold cream or a light-weight mineral oil may be applied to the skin. If the pain is excessive or if extensive blistering is present, consult your physician.

'Y' children scholarships

Through a joint effort by Paul Grennell, executive director of the Tri-City Area YMCA, and Mrs. Nancy Mathews, social worker for the Granite City school district, approximately 25 elementary age boys and girls from the downtown Granite City area will be receiving scholarships which will entitle them to "Y" memberships.

For various reasons, these children normally would not be able to afford the $30 membership fee. It was noted. The scholarship program will enable them to take part in many of the "Y" activities, such as swimming, gymnastics and gym games.

MAMMOTH PROJECT requires massive equipment. Grading machines are shown being used Thursday afternoon on Maryville Road in the area where it is to be extended as a four-lane thoroughfare to link with Highway 162.

Chief and alderman have autos struck

Mrs. Dianne Fish, 32, of 1704 Cleveland Boulevard, was charged with driving while under the influence of liquor and improper lane usage, after her auto, turning from Eighth Street onto Madison Avenue, went out of control at 1:35 a.m. Saturday and struck the parked cars of Venice Chief of Police Ralph "Dewey" Briley and Madison Second Ward Alderman Frank Dutko, former chief of the Madison Police Department.

Witnesses reported the auto struck the rear of Briley's parked car, pushing it into Dutko's auto, parked in front. Dutko's auto then was pushed into a utility pole, police said.

Mrs. Fish was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital but declined treatment at that time and was taken to the Madison City Jail.

Later Saturday, she complained of shoulder and stomach pains and was returned to the hospital where x-rays were taken, her arm was put in a sling and she was released to police.

She was released after posting $100 cash bond.

Urge Illinois coal emphasis

The Illinois State Chamber of Commerce today unveiled its proposed energy program for Illinois, and included among its recommendations is a provision calling for modification of environmental restrictions on the use of Illinois coal.

The program, which covers all phases of energy production, consumption, conservation, legislation and regulation, focuses on the state's future economic growth and job creation.

Included in the program are these goals:

1. Continue efforts to achieve reasonable modification of existing air pollution control regulations which would take into account the cost benefit relationship and would stimulate the use of Illinois coal and high sulfur oils.

2. Endorse increased bonding authority to provide necessary funding to construct and maintain pollution control devices which would foster the use of Illinois coal.

3. Focus attention on the need for immediate establishment and implementation of both state and federal energy policies. Insist that energy policy decisions are based on technical and economic factors, rather than limited political considerations.

4. Achieve a balance between reasonable environmental objectives and adequate supplies of various forms of energy, with attention to preserving present jobs and providing future job opportunities and economic growth.

5. Assist in preserving the traditional rate structure of electrical and gas utilities which base the price of the product on the cost of service.

6. Recognize future financial stability and capital needs of energy providers to insure that sufficient supplies are available to meet anticipated growth needs.

7. Seek equitable oil and natural gas price levels to stimulate the research for additional supplies, including the deregulation of natural gas and the phaseout of the controls on petroleum prices.

8. Promote energy conservation programs in commerce and industry as an important part of everyday business decision-making and future planning.

Leslie W. Brann Jr., president of the 19,000-member statewide business organization, said he hopes the plan "will help influence legislators at the state and federal levels in their deliberations over the critical energy issues we face today and in the future. The establishment of both federal and state energy policies must receive immediate attention."

"Although energy conservation must be a major goal of business and the public, the final answer to our energy problems will be through the development of new energy supplies and sources. Energy conservation alone will not meet our needs."

Brann said energy conservation efforts should be pursued on a voluntary basis by promoting the implementation of processing technology which will make the most efficient use of energy, and encouraging the establishment of total energy management programs rather than "simplistic, generalized approaches" to the problem.

"Adequate power and fuels are vital to the success of programs to improve Illinois' economic growth. Without adequate energy, Illinois commerce and industry cannot grow and provide the needed jobs now and in the future," he concludes.

Final recommendations for the positions of vice-president for business affairs and vice-president and provost at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville were submitted Friday to President Kenneth A. Shaw for consideration.

Recommended by the Search Committee for Vice-President for Business Affairs were Ria Fritters, dean of social sciences, humanistic studies and managerial sciences and professor of business administration at Towson State University, Baltimore, Md., and Lawrence R. Larson, vice-president and treasurer, Mills College, Oakland, Calif.

The Search Committee for Vice-President and Provost made three recommendations.

They are:

1. Leon E. Boothe, dean, College of Arts and Sciences and professor of history, George Mason University, Fairfax, Va.;
2. Earl E. Larson, acting vice-president and provost at SIUE; and
3. Joseph Satin, dean, School of Humanities, California State University at Fresno.

The committees, which launched their activities at the direction of Dr. Shaw in January, met the deadline of June 1 which had been proposed by the president. He has indicated he hopes the appointments can be finalized by July 1. Both appointments must be confirmed by the Board of Trustees.

Both positions have been filled by acting appointments since April 8, 1976. Larson, formerly dean of the School of Science and Technology, was named acting vice-president and provost after Andrew J. Kochman, who had held the position five years, was named acting president following the death of President John S. Rendleman on March 4, 1976. James F. McKeef, acting vice-president for business affairs, who also is university budget director, previously had been designated chief officer for business affairs in March 1976 following a reorganization in that area.

Second multiplier would have increased tax disparity

It is a plus for the Quad-Cities and Madison County that the county once again has qualified for a "one" multiplier on property assessments, even though the county had to designate town multipliers in 20 of the 24 townships to accomplish it.

The fewer layers of multipliers the better, since they are so broad in their impact that they compound whatever difference already exists in the assessments of neighboring taxable property of equal worth.

Venice and Nameoki townships escaped a multiplier due to their relatively high patterns of assessment, while Granite City received 1.08 and Chouteau Township received a 1.13 multiplier.

In sections affected by multipliers, there was a need to increase the average valuations if the one-third-of-value statewide concept was to be maintained in the face of the extreme upward spiral in property sales prices. In turn, the higher assessments will aid local-level governing agencies in meeting their inflation-adjusted needs.

While many taxpayers may not agree, the Illinois Department of Local Government Services sees a positive side and presents it as follows:

"The department has certified a final 976 multiplier of 1.0000 to Madison County."

"The multiplier is determined by comparing actual assessment levels derived from the department's annual assessment-to-sales-price ratio studies to the target level prescribed by law."

"The law requires that assessment ratios for the three years immediately preceding the assessment year be used in computing the multiplier. Recent increases in property values are reflected in the assessment sales analysis."

"The statutory assessment level in 1976 for Madison County is 31.34 per cent. Before Board of Review action, the actual assessment levels in the county were 24 per cent of market value on rural property and 36 per cent of market value on urban property."

As a result of the Board of Review equalization efforts, rural and urban assessment levels were made more equal and the county average level of assessments was raised to the statutory target level. A final multiplier of 1.0000 was established, a reduction from the previously published tentative multiplier of 1.0503.

"Because of the Board of Review's action, the 1976 tax bills will represent a more fair distribution of the property tax burden among Madison County taxpayers. Assessing officials do not determine the total amount of taxes. Only taxing districts control the total tax burden through the amount of their levies."

"The job of assessing officials is to ensure that assessments are as just and equitable as possible so that the tax burden is distributed fairly and that each taxpayer contributes only his fair share. The Madison County Board of Review's 1976 equalization action represented a positive step in this direction."

More coordination needed in Nameoki Town stop signs

The current proliferation of stop signs around Nameoki Township without advance public notice raises serious safety questions.

Motorists encountering unexpected stops — or the absence of them — could become involved in collisions that otherwise would have been avoided.

The Nameoki Town Board and the township highway commissioner must quickly develop procedures for adequate notification, lest potential hazards become traffic realities.

A related point is that traffic flow patterns deserve thought rather than whim — coordinated study rather than isolated and sometimes conflicting requests for signs.

Arrest six during fight

Six persons were arrested after police found it necessary to use force in breaking up a fight in the 2400 block of Bryan Avenue at 8:35 p.m. Sunday.

Patrolman Jerry Wilson was the first officer to arrive at the scene and said he saw several people fighting. He said he was unable to determine the reason for the fight and his attempts to halt it were unsuccessful, so he arrested two persons and called for additional officers.

Arrested were Dennis Pigg, 22, of 2400 Ohio Ave., and Vernie Huested, 23, of 2409 Bryan Ave., both charged with disorderly conduct.

Wilson said the arrests failed to calm the group and the pushing and shoving continued until the result of a joint investigation by Granite City police, U.S. Postal agents and U.S. Secret Service agents.

Federal agents were called into the case after a stolen U.S. Treasury Department check was found in the possession of one of the arrested persons.

Police alleged Gordon cashed five stolen checks at First Granite City National Bank after opening a checking account there.

Detectives said they have not yet determined the total amount of money netted from the stolen checks. Their investigation is continuing.

Charged with check forgery

Roland Alfonso Gordon, 41, East St. Louis, was charged Tuesday with check forgery and five counts of forgery and his bond was set at $15,000 on each count, a total of $75,000.

The arrest Thursday night by federal agents in East St. Louis was the result of a joint investigation by Granite City police, U.S. Postal agents and U.S. Secret Service agents.

Mrs. Thompson heads parents in E. Madison

Mrs. Rose Thompson has been elected president of the Concerned Parents Group of East Madison.

Mrs. Jean Boyer is the retiring president. Other officers elected were Mrs. Jeanette Wilson, vice-president, Mrs. Dixie Reed secretary and Mrs. Doris Neff, treasurer.

During the summer, the group will meet monthly and will resume more frequent meetings after school starts in the fall, Mrs. Reed said.

STAND BURGLARIZED

A ball diamond concession stand at Third Street and Grand Avenue in Madison was burglarized at 4:30 p.m. Friday by several juveniles.

Three dozen softballs belonging to the city and an undetermined number of sodas and cups belonging to Explorer Post 10-4 were taken.

PROBATION, $500 FINE

Lloyd J. Nagel Jr., 22, of 2127 Fourteenth St., has been sentenced to serve two years of probation and pay a $500 fine after pleading guilty to unlawful delivery of a controlled substance.

The arrest followed an undercover drug operation by agents of the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois (MEGI) Thursday.

Wellmaker was arrested near the intersection of Grand and Western Illinois (MEGI) Sunday, 7, 1976.

Five hurt in crash Friday

Five persons were injured when the right-side of Robert Hamm, 244 Kilarney Drive, and Claude Dasch, 21, of 2533 Nameoki Drive, collided at Niedringhaus and Madison avenues at 9:25 p.m. Friday.

Hamm was charged with disobeying a red light. Taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital was Martha Breeze, 19, of 2154 Edison Ave., a passenger in Dasch's auto, who was admitted with a bruise to her left arm, abrasions to her right forearm and right chest, a bruise to her right hip, a two-inch cut to her head and possible internal head injuries.

Dasch's face struck his auto's steering wheel and several lower left teeth were knocked out. He also suffered four cuts of his lower lip. X-rays were taken and he was released.

Another passenger in his car, Mark Breeze, 17, of 2154 Edison Ave., had abrasions to his left lower leg and right elbow and lacerations to his face. He was released after X-rays were taken.

Debby Keller, 18, of 1415 Fifth St. Madison, another passenger in Dasch's auto, suffered head and abrasions to both arms and was treated, X-rayed and released.

Hamm escaped serious injury, but a passenger in his car, George Lyons, 18, of 3283 Westchester Drive, was admitted to the hospital with abrasions to both legs and injury to his right forearm. He also was dazed, authorities reported.

2 drug arrests

Karen Crisp, 20, of 24 Garneche Homes, Madison, and Garland Wellmaker, 35, of 309 Canal St., Brooklyn, were arrested by Madison and Venice police in conjunction with agents of the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois (MEGI) Thursday.

Each was charged with unlawful delivery of a controlled substance to MEGI agents. Bond was set at $10,000 each.

They were among 17 persons arrested in a series coordinated by MEGI Thursday. Fourteen adults and a juvenile were arrested in St. Clair County in connection with an undercover investigation which spread into the Madison and Venice areas.

Wellmaker was arrested near the intersection of Grand and Western Illinois (MEGI) Sunday, 7, 1976.

INTRUDER FLEES HOME

Mary Ann Hines, 710 State St., Madison, was awakened by a stranger standing over her bed at 2:15 a.m. Sunday and said the man said something to her. She yelled for a friend in another room and the man fled past the friend and out the front door.

EXPERT APPRAISING

MORRIS REALTY CO.
876-4400

To the Editor:

In one of the longest weeks of the session, we were in committee or on the House floor 12 hours a day and voted on hundreds of bills.

Those bills that had no opposition were placed on a "consent list" and were all passed at one time. These bills passed on a vote of about 150-0.

A second group of bills with limited opposition was placed on a "short debate" list. On these bills, one proponent and one opponent were allowed to talk for two minutes each prior to voting. Over 75 per cent of this group passed.

The remaining bills, which number over 300, were open for full debate. Depending on the subject matter, these bills took anywhere from five minutes to four hours to pass or to defeat.

It is a complex piece of legislation that will probably be defeated and amended again before June 30 arrives.

Workmen's compensation law defines rights of the injured employee and the employer.

For example, it mandates a certain pay level for temporary loss of work and sets forth a payment schedule for permanent injuries.

Objects to dress code for workers

To the Editor:
May all college-bound men and women be forewarned: if you are planning to enroll at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, you may want to reconsider your choice of schools.

Once a student has graduated from junior high school, school codes and similar repressive measures are usually behind him. Such is not the case at SIUE, where a dress code has been implemented for certain student workers on campus.

Student janitors employed in the University Center have been threatened with termination of their jobs if they dare to come to work in jeans, slacks, tank tops or white tee-shirts.

This return to paternalism was implemented at the discretion of the University Center administration as a means of showing the students there "who is boss."

The move to a dress code was done under the banner of "student safety" and "improvement of the image of the building."

Supposedly, student janitors sweeping floors and waxing restrooms while attired in shorts or tank tops are an affront to the non-students who use the building, to whom the building administrators have seen fit to cater.

Student safety was really the issue, many more pertinent measures would be taken to change the student work program.

The administration's desire to alter the image of the building to suit non-students is incongruous with the manner in which the building is funded.

Women's conference is open to all

To the Editor:
Anyone who wishes that the very people who oppose the Equal Rights Amendment are now writing letters to the editor demanding equal rights for women (Letter May 16 about International Women's Year).

The truth about the International Women's Year conference is that it is open to anyone who wishes to attend. Pre-registration is not necessary unless requesting childcare or housing and meals to be arranged by the IWY Committee.

Scholarships are available to those more fortunate women needing financial aid.

Moral issue—selling or aborting?

To the Editor:
People never cease to amaze me in their refusal to find it immoral to buy and sell babies. However, they refuse to find the immorality of aborting them.

Jobs for offenders but not others

To the Editor:
My son applied for a job to the Youth Conservation Corps Program through high school. He was rejected because he was not selected because of the Consolidated Aluminum Corp. in Venice and Karen Crisp was arrested.

Chorale auditions

Auditions to sing in the Concert Chorale at SIUE will be held tomorrow, June 1, from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. in Room 0179 of the Communications Building, according to Leonard Van Camp, director of choral activities at the university.

Members of the Chorale must be enrolled in classes at SIUE, but it is not necessary that they be music majors. Membership in the group is through auditions only.

The Concert Chorale has made two trips to Europe in the past and will be making a third trip to Europe in the summer of 1978.

Those interested in auditioning are to contact Van Camp at the SIUE department of music or by telephoning 692-3590.

Negotiations to resume

Negotiators for Archer Daniels Midland Co. and for striking members of Longshoremen's Union Local 1700 are to meet with a federal mediator tomorrow in St. Louis to discuss contract issues.

The strike will enter its third month tomorrow and has resulted in the ADM soybean processing plant and grain elevator on Carquill Road being closed since April 1.

The two sides met last week and "some progress" was noted by company officials, but they would not speculate when agreement may be reached on a new contract.

Prison term for burglary

John R. Carr, 31, of 1108 Kirkpatrick Home — who also uses the name Johnny Lindsey, according to court records — was sentenced to serve two to six years in prison for pleading guilty to burglary.

Another burglary charge stemming from the burglary of a house and car was dismissed. Carr pleaded guilty to burglarizing Doris Cate, 160 State St., 4 and was sentenced by Circuit Judge William Beatty in the Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville.
